WADSWORTH

The normal extension class conducted by Superintendent Elliott opened Tuesday night at 4:30 o'clock at the English room in Central school building. An organization was perfected for the coming year under the direction of the Kent State Normal school. It will be open to all teachers. Two courses will be studied, education process and psychology. Two units credit will be given to all teachers who have finished the course. The sealed bids for the Highland avenue paving assessment, amounting to $5,000 was opened last Saturday. About $6,000 of the amount to be paid by the property owners was paid in cash. The infant son of C. W. Lee, 8th grade instructor, fell from his crib, breaking his nose and cutting his face. The Wadsworth Indians defeated the strong Broadway team of Akron in a fast game here Sunday afternoon. The local team ran up a total of 26 to 0, largely on line plunges. Jackson starred for Wadsworth. Touchdowns were made by Culbertson, "Spec" Guy 2, and Jackson. The Wadsworth boys scored in each quarter, playing a steady game. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Andrews expect to leave during the latter part of October for Atlanta, Ga., where they will spend a part of the winter with their daughters, Mrs. W. W. Freeborn and Mrs. John Roberts. The trip of about 800 miles will be made by automobile and will include Cincinnati, Covington, and the Mammoth cave in Kentucky, Chattanooga, Tenn., and other important southern cities.

There is considerable discussion in regard to having a public celebration on the 50th anniversary of the incorporation of Wadsworth as a village, which will be April, 1916. Hon. Aaron Pardee became the first mayor in 1866 and was succeeded by Thomas Browning, John A. Clark, George A. Brown, W. E. Beardsley, Edwin Farr, F. S. Pardee, C. F. Gardner, Capt. T. D. Wolbach, J. K. Durling, A. M. Beck, T. W. Screene, Dr. E. A. Kremer, C. E. Holbein, L. S. Wertz, Dr. E. Burget, Dr. R. L. Johnson, W. A. Ault, M. C. Lytle and Dr. F. W. Boyer. In the above list were three lawyers, three retired farmers, two bankers, two dentists, two school teachers, a physician, veterinary, minister, harness maker, jeweler, shoe merchant, photographer and an editor. Eleven of the number are still living and will aid the local committee in making the meeting a success.

There are now 152 enrolled pupils attending the centralized schools in the normal building. During the heavy rain last Friday morning the pupils were all comfortably taken to the building in covered wagons. The course of instruction is giving splendid satisfaction. A. D. Miller, president of the township board of education, was in Medina Saturday assisting the county board in apportioning the funds due Wadsworth township in the transfer of territory which was made last summer.

DRYS LINING UP

Although he is expected to talk in favor of prohibition William Jennings Bryan's speaking tour in Ohio will be under the direction of a special committee of democrats. He is expected to spend several days in Ohio. Among those whom the league has secured to stump all parts of the state are: Fred O. Blue, tax commissioner of West Virginia; Congressman Fred Landis of Indiana; Rev. Sam Small of Georgia; Congressman Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama; Judge Seaborn Wright of Georgia. The league is trying to secure the services of Governor Hatfield of West Virginia, among others.

CORN MATURING SLOWLY

Summary of weather and crop conditions in corn and wheat region for the week ending October 5, 1915: Late corn in much of the central and northern portions of the belt is maturing slowly on account of the cool, and damp weather and considerable damage resulted from frost at the close of the week. Much late corn is being silaged. In the southern portion the crop is safe and to the northward the early planted is generally matured and cutting is progressing rapidly. In portions of the spring wheat belt considerable threshing is yet undone and the work has been delayed on account of dampness. In the winter wheat belt preparation of soil and seeding have progressed rapidly although hindered in some portions by wet ground, especially in southern Ohio, Kansas and Nebraska. In many districts fall work is less advanced than usual.

BOY STOCK JUDGES AFTER STATE HONORS

Three Medina county boys will enjoy a trip to Columbus Farmers' Week with all expenses paid for one week, as a result of the Boys' Live Stock Judging Contest held recently at the county fair.

The boys who were so fortunate as to get this opportunity of attending the state's big agricultural meeting and learning more about stock judging are: Henry Wente, Medina, R. F. D. 2; Gault Aurand, Medina, R. F. D. 5; Mylo McCoy, Creston, R. F. D.

Not only are these boys prize winners in this county but they now become the representatives of the County in the State Boy's Live Stock Judging Contest which will be held during Farmers' Week, Jan. 31 to Feb. 4, 1916, at Columbus. The total score made by the three Medina county boys will be compared with the total score made by the team from each one of the other counties in the State Contest. Twenty-six boys participated in the contest. County fair officials and others who have been watching this contest believe that we have a strong team and a good chance of bringing home some honors next winter. In addition to the three boys who get trips as prizes, several other boys won prizes. The complete results of the

WILL HELP ROAD MOVEMENT

Immediate improvement on Main Market Road No. 10, the Cleveland Columbus-Cincinnati highway, was urged by the Good Roads committee of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, after a meeting with Director George F. Rudisill of the Ohio Good Roads Federation. The highway in the vicinity of Columbus is already improved, as also this portion around Medina, but the organization will aid the "Three C's" movement in other parts of the state.

WHERE'S BARBERTON EDITOR?

The mysterious disappearance of Foster H. Williams, editor of the Barberton Telegram, has created great interest among the people of that town and anxiety to his relatives and friends.

Williams did not return to his home Thursday night of last week and on Friday morning a blood-stained hatchet and a pool of blood on the floor of his office caused rumors that he had been killed.

LATE OCTOBER GARDENING

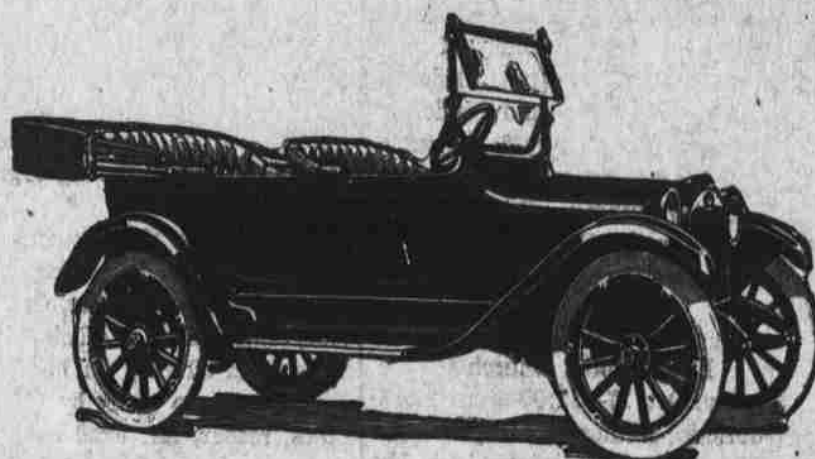

Begin to clean up the garden and store away our root crops. It is a good practice to cut the asparagus tops as soon as hard frosts have completely stopped their growth. Gather them into heaps and when dry, set fire to them. This will destroy many of the seed which would otherwise give rise to a considerable crop of volunteer plants and destroy spores of rust and materials in which asparagus would hibernate.

As freezing weather approaches the beets and carrots should be dug and buried in pits on well drained soil.

Parsnips and salsify may be dug and pitted and allowed to freeze in storage or they may be left in the ground until spring. Frosts will not injure celery in its green condition when well banked but severe freezing will damage it. Clean up bean poles, tomato stakes and such materials and store away in good condition for use next season.

SAFETY FIRST HELPS SOME

Reports of the state utilities commission on the number of fatal railroad accidents for the month of September, show that the safety first campaign is having its effect, but that the trespassers seem to think they can walk between, behind and in front of trains without being in danger. Of the 95 lives lost on steam and interurban lines during the month 56 of them were trespassers. This is an unusually high percentage, and the largest of any month during the year. These reports for the year show however, that more persons are fatally injured while trespassing on railroad property than in all other ways combined.

The moment your foot touches the accelerator you begin to realize that not even the unusual specifications have given you an adequate idea how good the car really is.

Its instantaneous responsiveness, the ease with which it gets under way—the abundance of power—the pronounced gliding sensation, the steadiness at high speed—the freedom from gear-shifting—these are qualities which no list of specifications can reveal.
